

Free Landscape Workshop

The San Dieguito Water District, the Olivenhain Municipal Water District and the Santa Fe Irrigation District are sponsoring a landscape workshop free of charge for their customers. This workshop provides an overview of major landscape principles and is a great start to redesigning your landscape to be beautiful and water efficient. The workshop will be held on Saturday, March 13, 2010 at the San Diego Botanic Garden in Encinitas from 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Topics covered will include:

Residential Landscape Design provides a general overview of how a landscape architect approaches a design for a homeowner. Themes to be covered include "Landscape as Part of Your Living Space," "How to Develop a Landscape Plan," & "Plant Selection." The workshop will give participants a method to organize their thoughts and resources to develop a landscape plan that works best for them. Landscape plans and photos will be shown.

Ornamental Plant Identification covers common water-efficient plants that work well for homeowners. California friendly plants are beautiful, water-saving and many are fire-resistant. Brochures will be available that include photos, descriptions and useful information.

Home Sprinkler Systems looks at major design and maintenance principles of both overhead sprinklers and drip irrigation. Discover the right system for your home. Trouble shooting and repairing system inefficiencies will also be covered.

Maintenance & Fertilizing covers topics such as; "How Long Should I Run My Sprinklers," "How Does Soil Affect Plant Growth and Watering," "Irrigation Control Clock Programming," and "Fertilizers."

The workshop will be taught by a professional landscaping consultant hired by our water wholesaler, the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. Light refreshments will be served. Seating is limited, call today to RSVP!
